

PAC KITCHEN CONTAINER

Our PAC kitchen provides a compact event or remodeling solution with high throughput capability, along with a special ability to custom configure the industrial culinary equipment onboard beneath the ventilation system that runs the length of the container. This flexibility allows for optimized efficiency, and permits the system to be configured standard with a variety of food production assets, or reconfigured to enhance capability for a particular type of food service production equipment.

See back for specifications

